

Innovation Corridor Posters by C4 Members

The Innovation Corridor provides a platform for new ideas to be shared. Several C4 affiliated groups are presenting posters at Bio 2008. Drop by to see examples of the leading edge technologies produced by our members. The poster sessions are in the Upper Level, Room 23 A – C of the San Diego Convention Center.

9 a.m. – 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 17

Expanding Organ Donor Pool by "Ex Vivo Repair" with a Novel siRNA-Containing Organ Storage Solution
Wei-Ping Min of the Lawson Health Research Institute (poster 1916)

This poster is a winner of the BIO 2008 poster competition. It was awarded a platform presentation, which will be delivered on Tuesday, June 17 at 10:45 a.m. in the Innovation Corridor by Todd Copeland.

9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday, June 18

A target for limiting scarring and promoting regeneration following spinal cord injury
Sandy Vascotto of the University of Western Ontario and Robarts Research Institute (poster 2024)

Rapid Combined 3D T1,T2 Mapping in Magnetic Resonance Imaging
Chicuong La of the University of Western Ontario and the Robarts Research Institute (poster 2019)

Micro Fine Dry Powder Pulmonary Drug Delivery Technology
Ting Ling of the University of Western Ontario (poster 2023)

Swallowing Air-Pulse Therapy System
Katherine Arima for the University of Western Ontario (poster 2026)

High Precision Radiostereometric Analysis (RSA) System for Monitoring Micro-Movement in Orthopedic Implants
Susanne Acklin of the University of Western Ontario (poster 2028)

9 a.m. – 4 p.m. Thursday, June 19

Materials for ophthalmic applications and ophthalmic drug delivery
Leigh Wilson for McMaster University (poster 2177)

Management and Treatment of Cancer: Three Promising Technologies
Gail Martin for Hamilton Health Sciences and McMaster University (poster 2111)

Dendritic Cell Regulation of the Cell Responses in Human Type 1 Diabetes
Todd Copeland of the Lawson Health Research Institute (poster 2103)